g. The approval process mentioned in point (b) refers to the committee’s responsibility to maintain food diversity, fairness, and equal representation among all participating nations. Vendor acceptance will be determined based on the following criteria:

   i. Menu Variety & Avoiding Duplication The committee will approve products that contribute to a diverse overall food selection. Vendors offering very similar menus may be limited to ensure visitors can enjoy a wide variety of cuisines.

   ii. Nation-Based Slot Allocation Vendor slots will be distributed fairly among the participating national communities, ensuring that participating countries have sufficient opportunity to promote their cultural cuisines.

   iii. First-Come, First-Served (When Applicable) If multiple vendors fall into the same category or cuisine type, and available slots remain within that nation’s allocation, approval will follow a first-come, first-served system based on complete registration and payment.
